

let your love grow

got a lot of work to do got a lot of playing too always looking at the truth tell me how it looks to you

i know i know
everybody says let go
i know i know
i'm just barely hanging on
once you see the lights go out everybody wants them on oh oh oh

everybody wants to heal how do you think that will feel everybody feels the truth
'cause every heart beat's telling you

once you see the sun come up people pull their shades back down

poet tries to find the words to speak her heart and mind musician tries to find the notes to play between the lines people want to get together but no one has the time i don't want to live alone staring at the screen talking on a telephone trying to explain just what i mean we got a lot of love no one's ever seen

it don't just come from above it's here inside of you and me
oh oh oh

i'm just barely hanging on i know i know

father tries to show his son things he cannot find children playing videos to fill their hearts and minds people want to pay it forward but no one takes the time i don't want to live a lie standing at the door of what i was afraid to try open it up and let it pour i got a lot of love

oh oh oh
