

mockingbird

if you want to sing with the mockingbirds you're gonna have to let your head go your head go listen to the mockingbird he's gonna tell you things that you don't know
like a thousand jokes

'cause every mockingbird has a story to play morning noon or late at night on any given day you know that every mockingbird has got a mind of it's own so everybody shake your body feel right at home
you know that everyone of us is just a mockingbird so open up your head communicate the word if you wanna live with the mockingbirds you're gonna have to let your life go your life go living with the mockingbirds they're gonna show you ways that you don't know

that they never show 'cause every mockingbird has got secrets to tell but only if you listen so you better listen well
you know that
every mockingbird has got a mind of it's own
so everybody shake your body right to the bone you know that everyone of us is just a mockingbird
so open up your heart communicate the word if you wanna fly with the mockingbirds you're gonna have to let your wings grow your wings grow flying with the mockingbirds you better have your wings or you won't go you can't go

'cause every mockingbird has got places to go every mockingbird has gotta put on a show
you know that every mockingbird is like a comedienne ringing like a cell phone flipping in the wind
you know that
every one of us is just a mockingbird
so open up your heart communicate the word

music by charlie vaughan, chris nordmann 2003 music and lyrics by charlie vaughan copyright 2008

the performers

charlie vaughan; vocals and guitar ed randol; saxophone bodhi idarius; bass

tom gorton; drums afia walkingtree; (kicking ass on the) shekere about mockingbird:

I love mockingbirds....and i tried to express the wild, all day all night, one-liner, stand-up-comedy, style of these unique critters.

They are the ones that are going off in the middle of the night outside your window, and all day, but you may not notice.....If Robin Williams was a bird, he'd be a mockingbird.